

BEST BBQ Event

The Valley Restaurant at The Garrison, Garrison

Good BBQ is a treat wherever you can find it. But if you happen to be free on a Thursday night between June and August, you can indulge in some of the best barbecue in the Northeast at The Valley Restaurant. Served on a picturesque patio overlooking the river, it's an all-you-can-eat fest ($20 for adults, $5 for children under 12). And believe us, you'll want to eat lots of chef Jeff Raider's food — no matter what shows up on his ever-changing menu. Fresh salads from the garden, grilled corn, ribs, smoked pulled pork, homemade mac and cheese for the kids, and a different warm cobbler for dessert each week. Whatever you do, don't miss their homemade Oreos. With a sprawling lawn in every direction, there is plenty of room for the kiddies to run free, while the adults get down to the serious business of socializing. A band plays every week, and despite being stuffed silly, many people find the energy to dance the night away under the stars. 845-424-3604, ext. 25; www.thegarrison.com
